He is a known porn critic, lives far away, & denied claim (yourbrainonporn.com/relevant-research). Alex found stalking claim far-fetched, tweeted skepticism, hasn't commented on it since, and is open-minded to evidence / more info". Below the text is a link to a document titled "Who's the Victim" with a thumbnail image showing a magnifying glass over a document.

The document link is titled "Nicole Prause's Unethical Harassment and Defamation of Gary Wilso..." and the introduction states: "Introduction This page (and now a second page) were created to counter the ongoing harassment and false claims made by former UCLA researcher yourbrainonporn.com".

Below this is a tweet from Liberos (@NicoleRPrause) dated Oct 28. The text reads: "Person your website falsely claims has a PhD has no degree, multiple police reports for stalking, & his only no-data paper recommended for retraction by 3rd party review: retractionwatch.com/2018/06/13/jou... Below this is a screenshot of the NoFap website. The website has a header with the NoFap logo and navigation links: Home, About, The Glossary, Forum Usage Guide, Forum Posting Rules. The main content area is titled "Hi everyone" and contains a post from a user named "Toby" dated Oct 16, 2017. The post text reads: "Hi I am a 29 year old male from the middle east. I found this group just yesterday after watching <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=...> on porn & its damaging effect on some men. I have been doing PMS for more than a decade. Recently I have been married & have a wife before that with an experience/familiarity about what sex. I have been experiencing so many of problems in bed affecting my relationship as well as my physical/emotional health. I have even went to therapists for solutions only to be told after examination that there was nothing physically wrong with me, it is all psychological. I even explained to them that I was watching a lot of porn and now I have stopped watching it but I was still doing the thing. To this I was simply told that stop looking off. Like I never thought of doing that & it was gonna help me."

At the bottom of the screenshot, there are two more tweets from Liberos (@NicoleRPrause). Science documenting the misogyny from these groups

"I want that power back': Discourses of masculinity within an online pornography abstinence forum"

This was a systematic review of the content in those forums. I believe Ley's point is not to say everyone must masturbate at some regular schedule. If you choose not to masturbate, just don't promote for-profit groups that support misogyny and advertise Proud Boys and other antisemitic groups. As far as I am aware, the only celebrity fan of YourBrainOnPorn is David Duke, which he described as preventing race mixing.

There are many ways to reach your goals that don't line the pockets of hate groups.

Peer-reviewed misogyny

Submitted by Nicole Prause on October 29, 2018 - 4:47pm

The fake-name account appears to want some of the quotes from the systematic-review paper posted. These will make very clear that extensive content on the NoFap website is misogynist. If you visit this website, you will be supporting and furthering misogyny, above and beyond the antisemitism evidenced from Dr. Ley's original piece.

Scientist vs. anonymous blogger

Submitted by Nicole Prause on October 29, 2018 - 5:24pm

Scientist every time

There's was a peer-reviewed article. You probably wrote all of those yourself. I just discovered that the NoFap company account actually was being run by Alexander Rhodes himself, in violation of his no-contact request. So your actual founder is stalking women online in violation of no-contact orders.

You provide no evidence that their review was not balanced. As your cannot pass peer-review, I think it's clear where the problem is.
